

Academic Surgical Pathologist

The Department of Pathology and Laboratory Medicine at the University of Kansas Medical Center is seeking THREE fellowship trained, academically oriented Surgical Pathologists for full-time opportunities. Faculty appointment is commensurate with qualifications and experience.

As an NCI-designated Cancer Center, many rich opportunities for clinical and translational research exist within the Department as well as the Medical Center. Surgical Pathology is a very active section currently handling an annual volume of more than 30,000 specimens with a broad spectrum of diverse pathologies.

The Department is experiencing rapid growth and is transitioning to a sub-specialty model. Candidates who are fellowship trained or have experience in one or more subspecialties are highly desired.

The responsibilities of the position include:

- Diagnostic sign out of 1-3 subspecialty areas
- Participation in the general surgical pathology frozen section services
- Contributing to medical student, resident and fellow training
- Developing research projects reflective of his/her own interest

Minimum Requirements:

- MD or MD/PhD
- Board certified / eligible in Anatomic Pathology (BC required for continued employment)
- Fellowship or experience in one or more subspecialties: Bone & Soft Tissue, Breast, GI, GYN, GU, Neuro, Thoracic/Pulmonary
- Eligible for unrestricted medical license in Kansas
- Strong diagnostic skills

Interested candidates may submit cover letter, CV, and 3 references to:
